

THE SUN

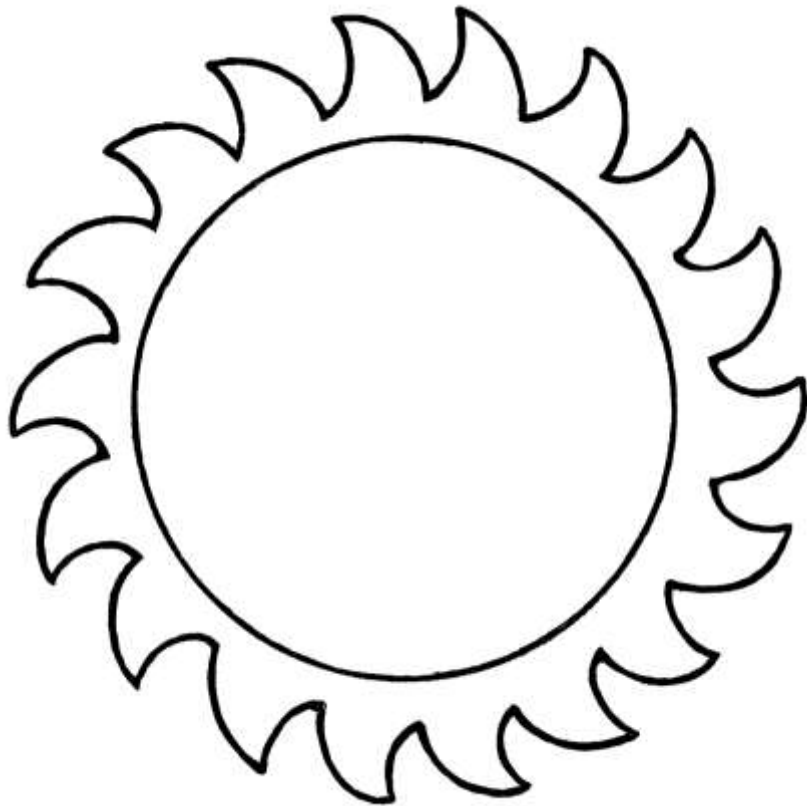

You rise every morning to wake us up

And for living things you are a must!

The star at the center of it all

Full of energy and light!

You disappear for us to sleep at night.

THE MOON

You are the Earth's natural satellite

That orbits us day and night.

Full moon and new moon just to name two

Your phases control many things

Including the oceans so blue

